Solid Edge – Home License Creation

Step 1: Go to <https://www.plm.automation.siemens.com/global/en/support/>

Step 2: Under License Management choose Licenses.

The screenshot shows the Siemens support website interface. At the top left is the Siemens logo. To the right are icons for email and a globe, followed by a search bar containing the text "Search for...". The main content area is divided into two columns. The left column has a "Contact GTAC" section with a sub-section "Web Support" containing an orange button labeled "Create or update a support ticket". Below that is a "Phone Support" section. The right column has a "Support Links" section with several items: "WebKey Account Management", "Download or Upload Files", "Hardware and Software Certifications", "License Management" (highlighted with a red border), and "Documentation".

Step 9: Download the SElicense.dat file and save the file to your desktop on your home computer. You will also get a copy emailed to the email used.

SOLID EDGE

Your Solid Edge Home Use license was successfully generated and e-mailed to: John.Doe@saratech.com

Please note that some e-mail servers may have filters that block this type of file in transmission. Contact your mail server support person or ISP for instructions that will allow you to receive a .dat file type e-mail attachment. If you are unable to receive the e-mail contact GTAC or your local Reseller for further assistance.

You can apply your license file during the product installation or after installing the product.

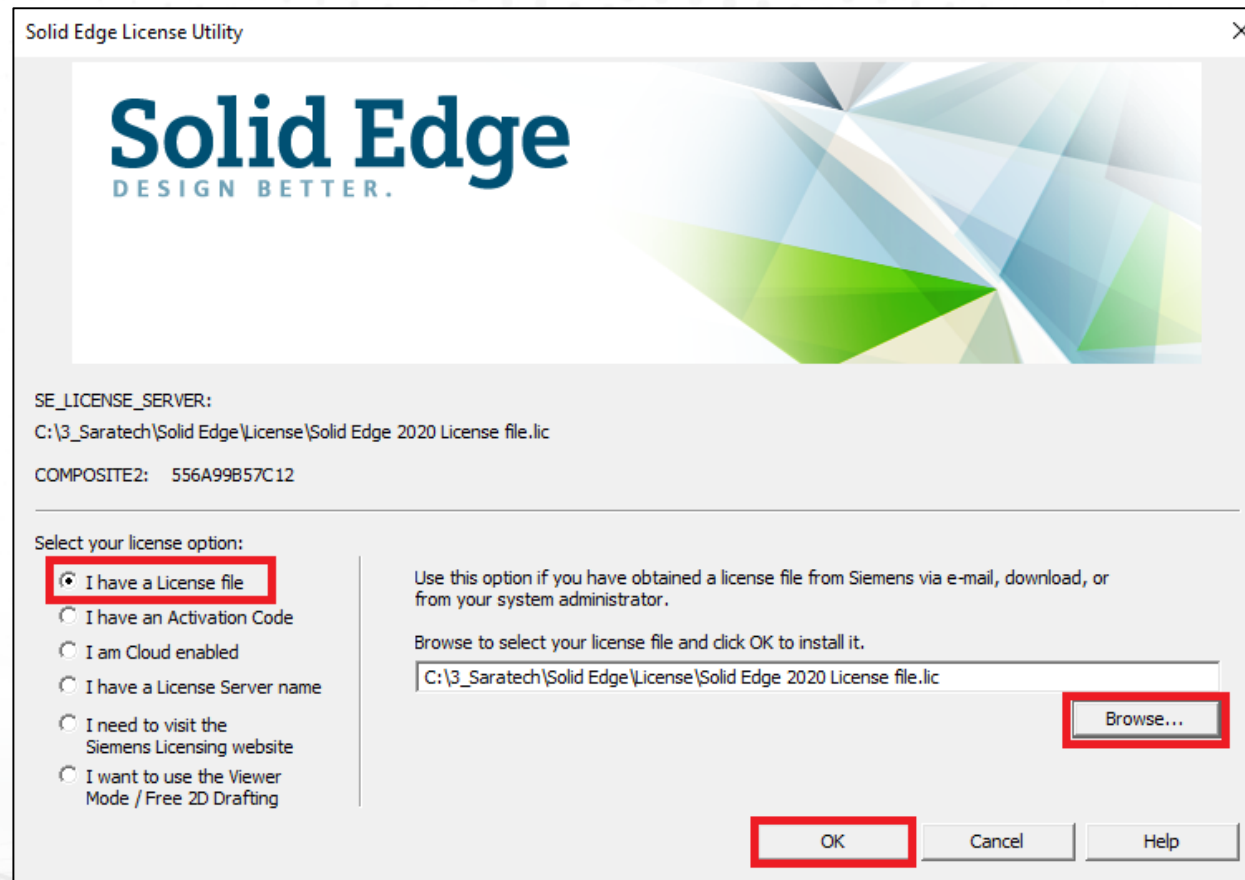

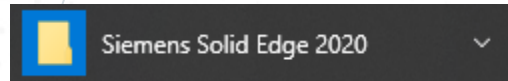

To apply the license during installation, first save the electronic file (SElicense.dat) to a location either on your local system or network drive. Then click Browse on the setup dialog box and navigate to the file. The setup program will automatically copy the file to the Solid Edge program folder.

To apply the license after installing Solid Edge, Save the Electronic file (SElicense.dat) to a location either on your local system or network drive. Then click the License Utility (located in the Solid Edge program group on the Start menu), then click Browse on the first license Utility dialog box, and navigate to the file. The License Utility program will automatically copy the file to the Solid Edge Program folder.

Click finish to return to the License Management Main page.

Step 10: Use the License Utility to import the license file onto your computer

Solid Edge – Home License Creation

Open up the License file to view

```
*SELicense.dat - Notepad
File Edit Format View Help
VENDOR ugslmd
FEATURE solidedgeclassic ugslmd 220.0 27-sep-2020 uncounted \
  VENDOR_STRING="SOLID EDGE HOME USE" \
  HOSTID=COMPOSITE2=A0C8575HC72A| ISSUED=31-Mar-2020 ck=212 \
```

The user will see that it is a Home Use license

- Solid Edge Users are allowed to get a Home License for 6 months.
- Solid Edge Users can also apply for a Travel License for up to 30 days in a year. This license allows them to temporarily use Solid Edge on a different machine off-site.
